Haskin, of New York, who is uncompromising in his hostillity to Lecompton, and Clay, of Kentucky, visited the Frosident yesterday as a Committee representing twenty-three Democrats, and remonstrated earnestly against his Kansas polley as sadly mistaken, and certain to destroy the Democratic party of the North, if successful. The President said that he had settled his course, but had no objection to Congress admitting Kansas with a provision declaring the right of the people to amend the Countingion at once, if they chose. The Southern men, however, say they will resist to the use must any such intervention in the affairs of the State.

General Ward, of New York, is very active in support of Lecompton. It is doubtful whether more than four New York Democrats will finally oppose it. No one except Haskin is yet openly against it.

and South required a separation, and they were determined to being it about.

I am perfectly satisfied, from various considerations, that a dissolution of the Union is the real object aimed at, under cover of zeal for the Lecempton Constitution. Senator Mason's remark in debate, yesterday, refers to the project. There is a systematic plan of operations already agreed upon, to be carried into operation upon the rejection of Kansas.

It is believed that Maryland will go with the South—If not at first, as soon as a separation shall be effected; and hopes are entertained that, through Mr. Buchanan's influence, Pennsylvania will be brought to join the South! The President is perfectly aware of these movements, but professes that by aiding the Lecondulor movement, he can acquire an influence with the disuals leaders which will enable him to defeat their sensor.

Scott, Black Fork, at Green River, on the 18th of December. He says:

"I have the honor to report that two additional companies of volunteers have been mustered into the service of the United States for nine months, making in all a battalion of four companies of men, numbering in the aggregate three hundred and twenty. A term of six months would be without utility, as, in that case, the men would be entitled to their discharge in the midst of active operations. A term of twelve months was objectionable, as it would bring the period of discharge at so late a season as to make it impracticable for the men to return to their homes. These men were needed hamediately, to aid in protecting the supplies for the army, and the exigency did not allow time for asking antherity for their employment."

Col. Johnston requests that Col. further time to take testimony, as arged by the sitting member, was adopted by 13 majority.

The Speaker laid before the House the following smended answer of J. B. Williamson,—that presented yesterday being unsatisfactory. It is addressed to the Speaker of the House.

Sir:—In answer to the question propounded by the Rouse, I would most respectfully state that when the subpeau was served upon me, summoning me before your select committee, I consented to appear, and propared to do so, but being under bonds in New York not to leave the jail limits of that city, I called upon the Speriff, and told him I had been summoned to appear before the committee, and desired that my bonds should not be forfeited by my absence. He repited that if I left the city voluntarily, my bonds would be forfeited, and my pleages of faith broken; but if my attendance was compelled, it was his opinion, as well as that of my attorney, that my had would not suffer loss. Upon this advice I acted, supposing it was right; and never showing or intending to commit any contempt of your honorable body. I would have cheerfully and and without hesitation appeared before the committee and answered all questions put touching the investigation they were pursuing, had it not been for the restraints thrown around me in New York. I now hold myself in readiness to answer all such proper questions as the committee my put to me.

Mr. Staaton remarked that the witness had nest to answer all such proper questions as the committee may put to me.

Mr. Stanton remarked that the witness had appeared before the committee and answered erry promptly, and without equivocation, every question prepounded. 'As to whether he answered correctly, it was for the country to indeg; and, on motion of Mr. Stanton, Mr. Williamson was discharged.

The President's message was considered.

Mr. Ward said, instead of communicating any desirable information it abounded in epithets and slanders against the people of Kansas.

Mr. Washburn, of Me., called Mr. Honston to order.

The House, at five o'clock, again refused to adjourn by a majority of 21. Some of the members passed off to dinner.

Mr. Campbell again asked whether it would be in order for him to move his compromise, that this question be withdrawn, and that the House come to a direct vote on the proposition to refer the message. [Laughter.]

The Speaker thought it was hardly in order. Another motion to adjourn was negatived.

The House continued disorderly, not one-half the Members being in their seats. At 7 o'clock, both parties were still holding out and trying to adjourn.

The patent bills recently introduced by Messrs. Taylor, of N. The bill agreed upon proposes several important changes. It makes the office increased expenses the fees to meet the increased expenses: erentes a board of examination; chiefly in order to Mesure uniformity in granting letters patent; gives a concell to the chief commissioner, and make his occasional; limits the time in which an interference can be made to two years; after which time it AT OUR RALES-ROOM, 76 DEAR PIDE STREET,

The design of the bill is to restrain the indiscriminate issue of patents, and at the same time protect inventions and the rights of the people. The Union, of this morning, says so far from any relaxation being likely to occur in the efforts of the Administration to press on reinforcements to the army, we have conclusive reasons to believe that every resource at its command will be exhausted by the War Department for welling and expediting these reinforcements. The preparations of the Administration will be such, that whatever responsibility for mischances to our gallant army shall attach to the Government, shall fall alone at the door of Congress.

Buchanan says that "the Territorial Government of Kansas, would have long since been subverted had it not been protected by the troops of the United States," This is undoubtedly true. That Territorial Left with the people to deal with, that Missouri Legislature would have been hunted out of the Territory as so many wolves. They were not elected by the people, and represented either their interests nor principles; they fians, and kept and protected in Kansas by the army of the General Government, for the e purpose of enabling them to plant Slavery in the Territory, in defiance of the will of the

The Proposed New State.

The letter of our Michigan correspondent, sublished in yesterday's Tamunz, makes us equalnted with the intention of the Legislature

o entertain favorably and probably pass a res-lution in which the cession of the Upper Pen-usula back to the General Government, and the organization of a new State therefrom, will be recommended. Whatever action that body may take, the friends of that movement may be ssured that it will meet with a cordial recepissued that it will meet with a cordar recep-tion in the Senate of the United States. That branch of Congress is tied to the propagandists of Slavery by bonds, that nothing but time can unlose, and it will peremptorily negative any proposition that looks like increasing the strength of the North in the councils of the nation. Minnesota is now a petitioner for admis-sion into the family of States; the alleged ir-regularities that have attended her application emains undissolved, but few years will elapse efore the wishes of Michigan will be respect ed! In the meantime let our friends, there, la-bor and wait.

A copy of the poll-book of Kickapoo has been obtained. Is exhibits the fact that Kaness contains more of the great men of the country than we ever imagined were to be found here. On it we find the names of Wm. H. Seward, Thomas H. Benton, Edwin Forest, Horace Greeley, Jumes Buchan an John C. Fremont, Millard Filmore, Stephen A. Donglas, J. Denver, John P. Hale, &c., &c., as voters on the 21st December, and strange to say, all for the pro-slavery ticket. Now, who will dare to say that the people of Kaness have had the opportunity for a fair expression of their will? The rumor has been current that Calhoun intends to withhold the announcement of the result of the events of the 4th, until the admission and Legislature of the 4th, until the admission of the statements contained in our letters, abused our correspondents without stint or mercy, severely criticised our editorial comments upon the current facts of Kansas history, and hen as a last resort, basely slandered and maligned us in our private relations. If the pub-lic could have believed half of the stories of the opposition papers, we should have been driven from our post two years ago. We were represented as constantly drunk with brandy when we were not intoxicated with rage and fury. More than one of our lying cotempo-raries has pretended to see us picked up out of the gutter, where we "wallowed with beasts of the result of the election for Star's officers and Legislature of the 4th, until the admission of Kansas, then to declare the pro-slavery licket as successful. We cannot say what may be his intention, but the rumor has cost one of the Pro Slavery candidates for the Senate in this county perhaps his life. Samuel Storer, the person referred to, was shot on the prairie by an individual who asked him his name; being informed, he shot at Storer, inflicting upon him a very severe, perhaps mortal wound. Such is the news brought from Wyandott last night. Governor Denver has issued his proclamation announcing the vote for and against the Constitution on the 4th; also the count, by Calhoun, in his presence, of the vote for State officers. [From the Boston Transcript]

To the Editor of the Transcript — In your paper of the 25th of April, 1856, I find the following article from the New York Express, giving some account of money subscribed by Englishmen to help through our Tariff of 1846. I have never heard of any Committee being appointed by Congress to investigate this matter, and suppose it would now be rather late to do so, especially as the subscribers are beyond our jurisdiction. It may be useful, however, at this time, to refresh our memories a little on the subject, and be reminded that all the mousy spent has not been on our side. It would seem rather hard that we should not be allowed to spend our money, if we have any, in our own defense, and to counteract the movement of our shrewd cousins, who take such an interest in her affair.

Whether or not the Middlesex Company

our shrewd consias, who take such an interest in her affair.

Whether or not the Middlesex Company could have gone on successfully under any management, or is enabled now to go on, except by the efforts successfully made to get off the duty from the raw material, is best known to the Directors of that Company. If it could not, then I should suppose that $87,000, if tan-fully expended, was well invested in bringing about such a result. If we could, by the outlay of money in establishing presses for the purpose of acting upon public sentiment, bring back the country to "An American System," such as once prevailed, a system of self profection, I doubt not that every thousand dollars thus expended would be worth millions to the

such as once prevailed, a system of self protection, I doubt not that every thousand dollars thus expended would be worth millions to the whole country, and more to the producers, consumers and laborers, than to the manufacturers. In so doing we should be acting on the defensive, since foreigners spend their money freely among us when they deem it necessary to secure advantages to themselves. Should there even be bribery in the case of the $87,000, which is not probable, it is some satisfaction that the Representatives took bribes to protect the great industrial interests of the counary on which they, and all of us, are directly or indirectly so dependent (if it can be supposed accessary to bribe them to such a course), instead of taking a bribe of oreign gold for breaking down those interests, if such, according to the intimation in the article below, was done in 1846.

BRITISH FREE TRADE AND BRITISH GOLD.—It is no fiction to say that large sutus of money have been sent from Great Britain, from time to time, to create a free trade sentiment in this country. We have before us proof of the fact. We have also the admission of the London Times as to the fact that under this FOREIGN PRESSURE THE TABITY OF 1842 WAS REPEALED, and much of the raw material entering into our domestic manufactures pay high duties under the tariff act of 1845.

No wonder that we have sent $228,000,000 of specile to Europe in eight years, when becoming so dependent upon the old world for so much of what we eat, drink, put on, and use. Mesers. J. P. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, have just published List's System of Political Economy, edited by Stephen Colwell, from which we learn that in 1844, $500,000 crash were subscribed in England to be expended in circulating free trade tracts in foreign countries, a large share of which was for our benefit.

Correspondence of the Few York Tributal

Feat Banness, December 8, 1828.

A deputation came into camp on the 2d, from Sait Lake, with a letter dated Nov. 25th, from Young. He begins by stating that he has received reliable information that there is a deficiency of sait, in the army and the merchant trains which accompany it, and that he therefore despatches Mesers Henry Woodard and Jesse J. Earl, with eight hundred pounds, which may be received as a present, or for which hav

Jesse J. Earl, with eight innature plantas, which may be received as a present, or for which pay may be tendered; but if the latter, he requires a memorandum of the weight of salt taken, and of the amount and kind of componantion, to be enclosed in an envelope, sealed, and directed to himself. He adds that Messa. Woodard and Earl do not come to say out the socition. and of the amount and kind of compensation, to be enclosed in an envelope, sealed, and directed to himself. He adds that Messrs. Woodard and Earl do not come to spy out the position, the intentions or movements of the army, but that the commanding officer, should there be any "dubiety" on that point, is "at liberty" to detain them outside the camp during the brief period necessary for the execution of their mission. Should there be any suspicion that the ealt contains any deleterious ingredients or substances, foreign to its normal composition, he states that such doubts may be removed by allowing Mr. Livingston, Mr. Gerrish, and Mr. Perry, his acquaintances to tasie it, or by submitting it to the "dicotors" to be analyzed.

He then drops the topic of salt abruptly, and says that he has to inform the commander-inchief that the demonstrations which have been made upon the animals and trains of the army, have been made solely with the intention of showing that the Mormons are earnest in their "determination to assert, freeman-like, their constitutional and inalienable rights." If, says Brigham, you have been sent here by the President of the United States, of which I have no official information, he has sent you upon pretexts founded upon lies long since exploded, and with as little regard for the Constitution, laws and rights of citizens of the United States as he has for the Constitution, laws and rights, of subjects of the kingdom of Beelzebub.

With regard to Mormon prisoner his letter confines to some extent the runor that a civil officer of the Government, having "ands to a considerable amount in his possession, had arrived at Salt Lake City from California, during the month of October, and beef taken prisoner. It seems incredible that it zhould be Col. Jack Hayes.

The remainder of Brigham's letter is addressed to Col. Alexander, he has ordered it to be placed in his own stables, where it will be well fed, and where it awaits its owner's order, but he advises the Colonel not to send for it before the expir

Saturday night, as the "making-up" engine was passing the first curve, a German was discovered washing his face in a puddle near the track, his carpet sack being left on the rail. The onglineer halled him and asked him what he was doing, and where he was going, but the only answer he could get was "Deutsche," "Deutsche." Subsequently the man took his carpet sack and walked up towards section eight on the road, where he was discovered on Sunday morning brutally murdered by some persons unknown. Two women are suspected of the murder. The German had long hair and long beard, and looked like the Wandering Jew. We trust that the authorities of Pulash County will give this matter a strict investigacharacters of indignation and contempt from the Republicans and Douglas Democrats. Its atrocious perversion of the facts in the history of Kaussa, and its ultra Pro Slavery tone, have had a good effect upon the Northern waverers. The Administration side was repeatedly beaten upon the motion to adjourn, which was a test vote, the opposition desiring to enable Mr. Harris of Illinois, a Douglas Democrat, to move the reference of the Message to a select committee of thirteen. Mr. Hugbes, of Indiana, made a speech in favor of Lecompton. Mr. Grow, of Pennylvania, has the floor for to-morrow, and the prospect of affairs decidedly better than it has been for a year past.

Mr. Wilson, in the Senata, will open the attack to-morrow upon the Message.

Mr. Sumner has been telegraphed to come on at once. So has Mr. Dawes, member of the House from Massachusetts. Every Northern man should be at his post.

Yesterday a deputation, consisting of Messrs. Clay, of Kentucky, Cox, of Ohio, and Haskin, of New York, (all Democrats) waited upon President Buchanan for the purpose of remon strating against the passage of the Lecompton Constitution. Mr. Buchanan told them it was to late; his Messace was ready to send it and Constitution. Mr. Disconnant but the late it was too late; his Message was ready to send in, and he should not alter it. Lecompton must go through. Mr. Clay is not yet fully committed to either side. Mr. Haskin is Anti-Lecompton. Mr. Cox has already declared himself Anti-Lecompton.

"That General Windham, notwithstanding his abundantly evident from the following dispatch: 'From General Windham to the Govenor-General. Cawnpore, Nov. 27, 10 A.M.

men in England, or we should suppose in India, who could have penned just two such sentence.

EXTRAORDINARY ANIMAL.—There is, at proent in the possession of Mr. George Merrifield, of Clifton, England, the most extraordinary living animal ever known—a double sheep—measuring more than six feet long, three years old and perfectly healthy. (From the Springfald Journal, Feb. 4th.)
On yesterday, the train from Sr. Louis, brought to our city the notorious John Cathoun, Surveyor-General of Kansas, who has performed so conspicuous's part in the matter of the Lecompton "juggle." He is on his way to Washington, but stopped to see his family, who still reside in this city. Calhoun used to be one of the great Democratic lights of Springfield; but yesterday he found few of our citizens willing to extend a cordial greeting to him. His treachery to the people of Kansas is despised by all alike. We understand he was closeted for some time with the Democratic fuglemen and wire pullers, but the result of the confab has not transpired. (From the same paper.)

We publish this suggestion, as there is no Administration paper in our city to speak for him.

How the Covernment is Willingly Swindled. "The contract made by the government with Russell & Major, for the transportation of stores to Utah, was of a most extraordinary nature. For carrying a barrel of flour from Leavenworth to Salt Lake City the price is $42. But if cut off on the route, not only are the trains to be paid for by the government, but all the freight also is to be paid for as if it had been delivered at Salt Lake. This, you see, is giving the contractors a premium for suffering their trains to cut off."

We extract the above information from a

It is no wonder the contract amounts to the enormous sum of 14 millions, when the contractors get, for transporting a single barrel of flour (198 pounds) $42!! and it is moreover no wonder, why 76 millions of appropriations fall short of paying the expenses of the government, when favorites are rewarded in this way.

SENATORIAL SUPER.—Gov. Grimes, the new Senator elect of Iowa, met the members of the Legislature, the State Officers and several gentlemen here from various parts of the State, at the Des Moines House, where a munificent supper had been prepared for the occasion. About two hundred guests were present on the occasion, and they had a glorious good time. All party feeling was forgotten in the enjoyment of the feast, and the best possible spirit seemed to assimate all present. As they could not have a Schator of their own selection, the Democracy seemed entirely satisfied with the choice of the Republicans. The Republicans were well satisfied that they had disposed of the Senatorial matters to the satisfactory of their constituents, and considered the occasion eminently worthy of a feetival.—Dec. Sepain Winner da, me., Description. DAILY TRIBUNE SATURDAY MORNING PEBBUARY

Another Investigation Demanded—The Grant to the Chicago to.

(From the Masters (Wis.) State Journal.]

We briefly noticed yesterday the petition of Ex-Governor Doty and others, presented in the Senate, demanding an investigation into the transfer of the North-Eastern Land Grant Road to the Chicago, St. Paul and Fond. du Lac Railroad Co. The petition is signed by Jas. D. Doty, Curtis Reed, M. Burroughs, Joseph Turner, and John A. Bryan. They state that they were subscribers to shares of the capital stock of the Wisconsin and Superior Railroad Company—the Company created by the was stock of the wisconsin and Superior Rail-road Company—the Company created by the Act of the Legislature, disposing of the Land Grant, and which received that portion of the Grant known as the North-Eastern Land Grant, Grant known as the North-Eastern Land Grant, —"and are now owners thereof, and have paid all installments required thereon." They insist that the persons appointed by the Crant of Lands, after having accepted the appointment, can neither resign nor have that trust taken from them—rather a strong proposition, it must be confessed. The persons named as corporators, they claim, were made perpetual members of the Wisconsin and Superior Go., and that the persons named as directors, continue to be the directors till the shareholders elect, or the Legislature appoints others in time to be the directors till the shareholders elect, or the Legislature appoints others in their stead. They then bring forward their charges in regard to the transfer of the North-Eastern Grant to the Chicago Co., as follows:

"Thatign the month of October, 1856, the Board held a meeting at Oshkosh, and organized by electing its officers; and adjourned to meet on the 8th of November, which meeting and adjournment were without authority; the act of the Legislature disposing of the trust being a general law, (see sec. 33 of Rev. Statutes, pp. 31 and 60), and then no force, as it was not published, and did not take effect until the 3d day of November 1856.

"That when the Board met in November, it proceeded upon that organization; resignations were made, accepted and vacancies filled with the names of persons who were not present and not stockholders; and a mijority undertook to dispose of this company to the Chicago, St. mention in his report of the unfortune currence. Several months having claps Messrs. Gauthier learned that the Adria gained the day for his chent. From this jud gained the day for his chent. From this judg-ment the owners of the Laonnais appeal of to the Court of Appeals at Alx, and the cause was brought before that tribunal, when the proceed-declared a lawful prize. During the proceed-ings in this latter court the Advance was unrig-ged. Capt. Durham was not the man to submit quichly to an advance system court the submit ged. Capt. Durham was not the man to submit quietly to an adverse sentence, and accordingly, in concert with one of his fellow-countrymen, he devised the following scheme:

The saip Manker, commanded by Capt. Smith, was also under sequestration, on account of a neavy debt contracted by her, and which had not been paid. Capt. Smith, a daring and resolute fellow, contrived to bring her alongside of the Advisite. The man see, v. e being effected, the Manker', cargo was shifted in a very chort these leaher's cargo was shifted in a very short time the hold of the Adriatic, on board of which to the hold of the Adriatic, on board of which, at the same time, the other's rigging was transferred. The captain then followed, and at 3 o'clock in the moreing of Saturday last the Adriatic passed the Joliett port. At this point there is always on duty a boart of the Custom House, and the officer who was in her hailed the ship, when Capt. Durham lean-d over the side. "Are your papers all right" asked the officer. "Oh, yos," answered the captain.—"What's the name of your ship?" "The Moon," replies he, and out to sea the Adriatic goes, though condemned to be sold for the benefit of Messrs. Gauthler, with her double cargo. Her departure was not perceived till broad daylight, and then a complaint was lodged, but a whole day had been lost. They say that the Prefect ordered out the Chacel, a war paddle-steamer stationed in the old port, and away she has gone to catch the Adriatic, it she can. She has not returned from her chase, and our seafaring men think the American ship has run into men think the American with has run into some creek along the Span's coast. Captain Smith, just before his deperture, bought three guas, other arms, and some powder, all of which were conveyed from the Meaher to the Adriante. This curious affair will, perhaps, not so easily be settled." Coparmersnips, &c. THE FIRM OF MERRELL, MASON Company.

"That the President of that company, stated publicly on the cocasion, that it had cost his co. two handred thousand dollars, (or some other large sum) to purchase the Wisconsin Co. H. R. MERRELL. BRATTON & MASON.

of the cemetery, the come was laid on the ground, and the Habtil recited, in Hebrew and in French, the Frayar of the Resurrection, after chanting the 91st Pasim. When the coffin was lowered into the carth, he repeated aloud and in Hebrew the prayer called "Haskabe," and then a prayer in French. Speeches were made by MM, Jules Janin, Batalile, and Maquet. That of M. Janin was particularly effective when he alluded to the loss, within so short a time, of all that was celebrated, glorious, and free; and he expressed his regret that the deceased was not culogized by a man who alone was competent to do so, but who was now in exile, namely, M. Victor Hugo. The family of the deceased then threw handfuls of earth on the coffin, the grave was filled up, and all was over. The crowd was immense, and several detachments of cavalry were on the spot to keep order.

from Harselles,

Letters from Marselles stated that an American ship, the Adriatic, had run down a French steamer, destroying life and property to a considerable extent. The Adriatic was placed under embargo until the damages could be judicially settled, but she surprised the authorities by stealing off. The French Government will apply at Washington for redress.

A letter from Marsellles, dated January 10, gives the following additional particulars:

"Since yesterday the whole town has bestalking of a strange affair, which it is thought may give rise to serious diptomatic complications. You remember the fearful collision between the Lyonnais, a French steamer belonging to the Messrs. Gauthier Brothers, and the Adriatic, an American ship, when the former foundered. Upon that occasion the American captain left the scene of the disaster without troubling himself about the result, and on reaching his destination omitted to make any mention in his report of the unfortunate or-Messrs. "Cannes, Jan. 4, 1858.

"I do not remember the date of my fast letter, my dear Mario, but it must have prepared you for the fatal denouement. On Friday, when exchanging the compliments of the New-Year, poor Rachel embraced me with so much emition that I saw she was thinking of an eternal farewell. In answer to our salutations, Dr. Bergonnier, however, assured us that we might hope still for some days of her life. On Saturday no new incident occurred. Rachel remained as usual in a sort of stupor caused by wathoese, from which she was from time to time around by intolerable suffering. At last about midnight she aroke calm for if from a deep sleep. She conversed franquilly with those who were around her bed, and wished to write to her father, but she had not the strongth. She then began to dictate a letter, in which her last wishes were expressed. She could not fluish it, and fell back to the state of prostration and suffering in which you have seen her. They tried at various times to get her to take some nourishment, but succeeded only with much difficulty; the functions of the stomach, which had hithert continued sufficiently, had failed in their turn. At eleven o'clock on Suaday expectoration became difficult, and there were fears of sufficiently when a fortunate effort refears of sufficiently when a fortunate effort refears of sufficiently when a fortunate effort refears of sufficients.

Rachel then desired to resume the letter, to her father; she dictated it to the end, re-read it, and then exclaimed 'Ah, my Rebeccs, my dear sister, I am going to see you again; how happy I am! She then added some words to the letter, sign ed it, and appeared to fall naless. This state of the letter is the state of the letter of the state of the letter. This state

She then added some words to the letter, sign ed it, and appeared to fall asleep. This state lasted several hours. Up to this time Sarah had besitated about calling in the succor of religion, but having witnessed the transport of Ruchel, she telegraphed to the consistory of Nice, who immediately sent ten persons, males and females. They arrived about 8 o'clock, and were told to wait awhile, fearing that their arrival might produce a fatal excitement. At last, about ten o'clock, a crisis similar to that of the morning occurred, and alarmed the last, about ten o'clock, a crisis 'similar to that of the morning occurred, and alarmed the whole houre. The physicians declared it would be the last. The religious persons were then admitted. Two women and an aged priest drew near the bed and began to chast the prayers for the last agony in Hebrew. Rachel turned ber face towards them, radiant with celestial, light, pressed the hand of Sarsh, and died with a smile upon her lips. When Farrived, a few hours later, I found every one impressed with the token of divine support that God had given to Rachel. I was not there, my dear friend, but I doubt not Rachel died in the hope of another life,"—Phil. Bultetin.

The funeral of M'lle Rachel took place this morning. At 11 o'clock a large crowd attended in the Place Royale, wherethe deceased resided. The remains arrived on Saturday night and were, in conformity with the Hebrew risals, watched by two woman, who recited prayers by the side of the coffin. At 12 o'clock the body was deposited in a hearse, drawn by six houses; the coffin was covered with a white pall, sprinkled with allver stars, and on it a crown of ismortele. The Grend Rabbi of the Jewish Consistory of Paris, dressed in a black gown, or soutone, with a cincture of the same color, walked immediately after the hearse. The cales mourners were the Inther, the brother, and the two sons of M'lle. Rachel. The corners of the pall were held by Alexander Dumas, sers, Baron Taylor; M. Maquet, President of the Society of Dramatic Authors; and Mr. Geoffroy, of the Theatre Francais.
